Bigger and Better

3rd Annual Ko Olina Children's Film & Music Festival

Saturday, April 30, 2016
1 p.m. to 8 p.m.

This popular festival has grown by leaps and bounds and will be the largest ever this year. Here's what's in store for the keiki.

Movie fans, young and old, will love the classic and family friendly movies that will be shown at Disney's Aulani throughout the day:

- Cinderella
- Monsters University
- UP
- Inside Out
- Aladdin
- Paper Planes (from the 2015 Hawaii International Film Festival)

And just after sunset, the festival will close out the day at the main stage with a Disney•PIXAR short and a Disney film:

- Lava
- Big Hero 6

Throughout the day, there will be live performances by young local artists, interactive audio and video studios for aspiring artists, and lots of games and activities for the keiki.

Don't forget to bring hats and sunscreen for some fun in the sun, and blankets and jackets for the movies at sundown.

The Festival will take place beachfront at Ko Olina's first lagoon and throughout the Aulani property from 1:00 – 8:00 p.m. Event tickets are $25 for adults ($30 at the door), $10 for kids 12 and under. Festival proceeds will benefit the Kapi'olani Medical Center for Women & Children, the state of Hawaii's largest health care provider. For more information and to purchase tickets, click here.

Festival attendees can take advantage of exclusive room deals at Aulani, A Disney Resort & Spa. Special room rates start at $299.00 per night (includes Wi-Fi, resort cultural activities and evening entertainment).

Lanikuhonua Hula Festival

Where Culture Comes Alive

It was the perfect day for hula. On February 26, nearly 300 high school and hula halau students from O‘ahu and the Big Island gathered for the 10th annual Lei ‘O Lanikuhonua Hula Festival at the Lanikuhonua Cultural Institute at Ko Olina. True to its mission, the non-competitive festival brought the culture alive for the dancers under the guidance of 10 well-known kumu hula who generously shared their extensive knowledge and personal style of hula. The day ended with spirited performances by the dancers, both female and male.

Thanks to the sponsorship of the James & Abigail Campbell Family Foundation, the James Campbell Company and the Lanikuhonua Cultural Institute, the festival is free for all participants. This year’s kumu hula included:

- Coline Aiu
- Wanda Mae Akiu
- Shelsea Alana
- Annette Armitage-Lapilio
- Harmony Brighter
- Michael Keala Ching
- Ainsley Halemanu
- Jerald Kimo Alama Keaulana
- Twyla Mendez
- Audrey Siangco

Students represented the following O‘ahu high schools and Big Island hula halau:

- Campbell, Kalaheo, Kalani, Kapolei, Leilehua, Nānākuli, Sacred Hearts, Wai‘anae, and Waipahu high schools.
- Halau Ku Mana with kumu Michael Keala Ching and Ke Kula ‘O ‘Ehunuikaimalino hula halau.
